DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains the word “comprising”. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 includes the phrase “the nominal cut-off wavelength of the excitation filter” within a parenthesis. It is not clear whether the above limitation is part of the claimed invention or not. Furthermore, the term “excitation filter” lacks antecedent basis. Finally, it is suggested that the word “at” is inserted after “1” in line 2 of the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2872

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Carabba (US 5,112,127).

Carabba discloses an imaging system for imaging Raman spectra from samples (Fig. 1) comprising:

a lens 40 for imaging a fluorescent image on an electronic sensor (via optical fiber 42);

a dichroic bandpass filter 20 positioned in front of the lens for passing the emission spectrum of the fluorescent image and for filtering out excitation light from excitation source (via optical fiber 12);

a high pass filter 44 positioned between the lens 40 and the dichroic filter 20, for filtering any stray wide angle excitation light passed by the dichroic filter 20 (lines 39-51, col. 2, and lines 17-67, col. 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carraba (US 5,112,127) in view of Marron (US 2004/0075844).

Art Unit: 2872

Carabba discloses all the limitations of the above claim except for specifying that the optical density of filter 44 is greater than 1 at the appropriate cut-off wavelength. Marron discloses an optical imaging system (Fig. 2), wherein the optical density of optical filter 92 is adjusted/optimized for optimizing the imaging conditions of the optical system ([0064]). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to adjust the optical density of filter 44 of Carabba's system, as taught by Marron, for better signal-to-noise ratio of the imaged data. Furthermore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to set the optical density to the claimed range, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980). The greater the optical density of the optical filter is, the greater the discrimination achieved.

Hoyt discloses a fluorescence imaging system (Fig. 5) wherein a pair of two filters 22 and 41 is placed in front of the imaging lens 23, the first filter 41 for providing additional rejection of any stray or scattered excitation light (lines 42-47, col. 5).
